Delegation Meet Cabinet Ministers

Mayor John Holyk and councillors of the town of Coleman met with the four-member committee of the Alberta Cabinet, comprising Chairman L. C. Halmrast, Minister of Welfare; R. H. McKinnon, Minister of Education; H. E. Strom, Minister of Agriculture, and R. C. Clark, Minister of Youth, September 7th to present several problems facing Coleman.

The town delegation requested the government to take steps to have the underground water level in West Coleman by means of dredging the Crownest River. The high water level creates many seasonal problems for the citizens of the area as well as for town crews who have to do any underground work.

The matter of policing the town of Coleman was also brought to the attention of the cabinet ministers as the town are having difficulty hiring a suitable replacement for the R.C.M.P. who will no longer be policing the town. The cabinet were asked if, since they provide R.C.M.P. policing for communities having a population under 1500, if the government would consider providing the same service gratis for the first 1500 population with the town to bear a reasonable cost for the population above the figure of 1500.

A delegation from the Coleman School board comprising chairman John Salus, trustees Steve Miran, Helen Nedd, William Skura, secretary Nora Goulding and principal Horace Allen were present to discuss with the minister, the school accommodation problem in Coleman schools. The cabinet were requested to consider the future needs of Coleman as the present old school buildings are over 50 years old.

Several other items were also brought to the attention of the committee but were not for release.

Stress Need For Elementary School

Members of the Coleman School Board met the Government of Alberta Cabinet Committee on Wednesday, Sept. 7, concerning a local school problem.

The need for a building replacement program is becoming increasingly urgent and a decision will soon have to be made as to the advisability of adding to or replacing the old buildings on their present restricted sites or building one new elementary school that would service the entire school district in a more favorable location.

Advance Poll

An advance poll for the forthcoming Prov. by election to be held on October 6th will be held in the Hillcrest Moose Hall, Hillcrest, on Sept. 29th, Sept. 30th and Oct. 1st, from 2 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 10 p.m. each day.

This is done so that people living in the Pass area who will be away on Oct. 6, will be given a chance to cast their vote.

Stresses Need For Kananaskis Extension

Pressing for the Alberta government to take steps to join the south end of the Kananaskis highway at Coleman through to Castle River district to Waterton Lakes Park, Jack Colwell of Coleman, speaking for the local Chamber of Commerce and Tourist Association, addressed the four-member committee of the Provincial Cabinet at a luncheon meeting in the Turtle Mountain Hotel September 7th.

The committee comprising ministers R. C. Clark, H. E. Strom, R. H. McKinnon and L. C. Halmrast heard Mr. Colwell stress the important role such an extension to the Kananaskis highway would mean to the economy of the area as well as provide a scenic drive from Banff, Calgary down the Kananaskis through the Crownest Pass via Castle River to Waterton Park. The route would also encourage circle tours for American tourists.

Mr. Colwell stated that the traffic through the Crownest Pass has increased to its former size after having dropped for a few years after the northern route was opened.

He urged the committee to do all in their power to have the number three highway through the Crownest Pass completed as soon as possible and urged them to stress the need for more picnic facilities in the south.

He suggested that the government give due consideration to hauling sand and dumping it on the ice on Allison Creek Dam to provide a better beach for swimmers. He stated that this warm lake was one of the most popular areas in the south.

Mr. Colwell suggested that more should be done to promote Frank Slide attraction and that a parks program was sorely needed in this district to attract and hold visitors in the area.

Joseph H. Hanrahan to Represent Social Credit

(Nick Van Ryn, Lethbridge Herald Staff Writer)

Joseph Hanrahan, formerly of Coleman, was nominated Social Credit candidate for the October 6th provincial by-election in the Pincher Creek - Crownest constituency.

Mr. Hanrahan is employed with the Alberta department of highways in Lethbridge. He is a former member of council in Coleman and has been active in the Social Credit party for many years, defeating Fred Radford of Blairmore for the nomination.

In accepting the nomination Mr. Hanrahan said, "it will be doubly duty to serve as candidate for I must follow in the footsteps of a great man," referring to William Kovach, former MLA who died suddenly some time ago.

Mr. Hanrahan added "I pledge to work as hard and as faithfully as I have for the past 32 years for the Alberta government."

"I shall work in harmony with all the people of this riding and the men of the provincial government in Edmonton."

Welfare Minister L. C. Halmrast referring to the provincial government as "a ship of state that has been sailing the political seas quite successfully for 31 years," told the 80 persons present that the Social Credit party is the only Alberta party that has a record to back up its election promise.

He told the gathering to weigh this record against the promises that will be made in this election campaign.

Youth minister Robert Clark discussed briefly the outlines of the youth department's proposed program.

He said recreation in the province should be extended on the basis of broader participation. The department is also looking at the possibility of expanding the 4-H program into urban areas.

Also mentioned were research to determine what youth programs are being offered in the province, and to find the gaps and duplications in these programs; and a proposed program whereby summer employment for post high school students and possibly present students would be channelled through the youth department.

He said the program would be similar in some areas to the Peace Corps in the United States and the Company of Young Canadians.

Pumphouse Work to Start

Coleman council, at its Light and Water Company meeting decided that the month of September is to be devoted to the installation of sewerage lines to property lines and hooking up services. This work is being done with the new backhoe unit recently purchased by the company.

Use of the new unit will be devoted to installation of new waterlines during the month of October as work on the town's new $42,900 pumphouse will have started by this time.

Foreman of the electrical department Ernie Montabelli reported that much work still had to be done on the town electrical system and he requested an additional helper be hired. He advised that 133 meters will have to be cleaned and calibrated this fall.

The matter of the town billing its utility consumers on a two-month basis instead of monthly was discussed and will be brought up later this fall for further analysis. The possibility of hiring a female meter reader was also mentioned.

A committee from council will look over and appraise six new registered lots the town has recently acquired. A value of between $400 to $600 will be set for the sale of each lot plus payment of the frontage tax for sewerage.

Swimming Pool Assn. Hold Meeting

The Coleman Swimming Pool Association held its fourth committee meeting on Thursday, September 15, at the Lions Youth Hall in Coleman for the purpose of having the engineering firm of Underwood, McLellan and Associates Limited undertake a preliminary study on the construction of a swimming pool in the Town of Coleman.

Prior to this meeting, committee members travelled to several towns in Southern Alberta to inspect existing swimming pool facilities and discuss construction and operating costs with officials of these towns. The committee had had earlier on considerable investigations and it was felt that the stage was reached where it was desirable to obtain an engineering study on the proposed swimming pool for the town. Mr. T. Miyayaga, Lethbridge Manager of Underwood McLellan and Associates was in attendance at the meeting to receive instructions with regard to the survey to be undertaken by his firm.

Mr. H. A. Walters, Southern Area Consultant for the Recreational and Cultural Development Branch was also in attendance at the meeting. Mr. Walters outlined the advantages of various sizes of pools and made certain recommendations in this regard. He also gave the meeting a breakdown on expected revenue and expenditures for operating a pool.

Mr. Miyayaga showed the meeting plans of a number of pools in the Province which were discussed in relationship to that which would be considered necessary for the proposed pool in Coleman. After much discussion, Mr. Miyayaga was instructed to proceed with a preliminary study which will con-

He said the government were planning to continue this project in the years ahead and this will include a home for the Crownest Pass in the very near future.

He suggested that patience be shown with the government but added that citizens here should not become lax in their demands for a senior citizens home.

Garth Turcott NDP Nominee

At a nominating convention held Saturday, September 10, at Blairmore, the New Democratic Party selected Garth Turcott to be its standard bearer in the Pincher Creek-Crowsnest by-election to be held October 6. An enthusiastic audience of over 175 party supporters were unanimous in selecting Mr. Turcott as their candidate.

Mr. Turcott is a well-known and respected citizen of this area having practiced law for the past 10 years in Pincher Creek where he has also been for eight years, a member of the school board, Mrs. Turcott too, is no stranger to the community having served on the Pincher Creek town council for the past two years.

In accepting the nomination by Bob Salant of Coleman, seconded by Dale McRae, Mr. Turcott struck out hard against both the Social Credit government and the old-line parties.

Mr. Turcott was especially critical of the way in which the present government has handled Alberta's natural resources. In this regard he said: "When 85 to 90 per cent of our oil and natural gas is owned by foreign capital, when a government will lease the world's richest known oil deposits to one of the world's richest companies for 28c an acre, and I am referring to the 2 1/2 million acres of tar sands leased to the Sun Oil Company, and when the same government loaned one of the province's richest utility companies, Calgary Power, 14 million dollars for 25 years, without interest, then I think it is time to call a halt. . . . I want it understood here and now that I am not against Americans, but I am for Canadians, I am for Albertans and I am for the people of the Pincher Creek-Crowsnest constituency, and I want our province preserved for the benefit of Albertans."

Mr. Turcott also criticized the government for ignoring the Crowsnest Pass coal industry "while at the same time they are building a forty million dollar railroad to the middle of nowhere to obtain the same coal which is available half a mile from this building."

Mr. Turcott summarized his reason for accepting the N.D.P. candidacy, ". . . I am here tonight because I do not believe for one moment that Social Credit has been giving good government. And if anyone thinks it has, just ask them to count the number of vacant businesses on the main street of any town in this area and then let them tell you what Social Credit has done for this part of Alberta."

Mr. Turcott lamented the plight of the old age pensioner "trying to exist on a pittance in the midst of inflation."

He termed a Senior Citizens' Home "A crying need" and criticized the government for delaying until after the death of Mr. Kovach, the former member, now deceased. "This was something for which Mr. Kovach fought for 18 years," he said after the meeting "and to use it for election bait after his death is shameful."

Mr. Turcott dismissed the other parties as having neither a program nor a policy. "Between elections, he said, 'you wouldn't even know they existed.'"

Exuding confidence the young lawyer predicted a hard fought campaign but challenged the audience ". . . if you believe in putting people before profits, then you have to vote for the New Democratic Party." This same confidence was evident in those who attended the meeting which suggests that in Garth Turcott, the N.D.P. may have found the man to help them break the Social Credit stranglehold on Alberta politics.

Coleman Little League Baseball

The Coleman Little Leaguers should well be congratulated for their fine performance throughout the complete season, which ended very successfully, and hoping it continues in the following year with greater success than ever.

Coleman Lions winning the Crowsnest Pass League without a loss and tying only one game with the Coleman Athletics, who have sole possession of third place.

Coleman entered into the Southern Alberta Playdowns losing 14-0 to Foremost. Since then, Foremost has taken the Alberta, Saskatchewan Championships. Consequently, we think the boys played very good ball against these champions.

To close the season, Coleman played in three tournaments, Cranbrook, Pincher Creek and Fernie. They took fourth spot in Cranbrook, second in Pincher Creek and second in Fernie.

Pincher Creek Tournament was the dramatic one where they played in the final game, and had to take second only to Columbia Falls, Montana. They were awarded a trophy for their fine effort, the only Canadian team to win one.

We wish to thank the parents that helped and co-operated to make our ball club a success, and also wish to thank the Coleman Lions, Coleman Legion and Coleman Athletics Association for their fine efforts in promotion of these Little Leaguers.

As a final reminder: A boy who participates in Little League Baseball learns much more than the game itself. Little League acquaints him with many attributes of successful adult living, among them, self discipline and decency. The youngster learns to lose as well as win. He realizes that everyone is endowed with varying degrees of natural talent, but that effort and determination often bring achievement to those of limited ability. While developing a competitive spirit—the "will to win"—he simultaneously develops the perseverance to keep trying, even after defeat. He discovers that the player who works to correct his mistakes is likely to be more successful in future efforts.

Coaches were: M. Lopachuk and J. Aiello.

Family Service Bureau Resume Meetings

On Sept. 7, the Board of Directors of the Family Service Bureau for Crowsnest Pass-Pincher Creek met in Blairmore after the summer recess.

Both of the counsellors, Sister Leo Agnes and Rev. Mr. Coward have been on training programs since our last meeting. Sister Leo Agnes attended a course in Vancouver. Mr. Coward attended one in Calgary. Both reported that they had gained much from the extra training.

We are pleased to announce the opening of a second Thrift Shop. The new one is in Pincher Creek under the supervision of Mrs. R. McKenzie. It was opened early in August, and at present is open for two afternoons a week: Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, from 2-5 p.m. We would like to solicit the contributions and support of the people in the Pincher Creek area. Funds from these Thrift Shops have been sufficient to carry our organization over a time of financial difficulty.

The Board decided to approach the councils of the local towns and municipal districts to seek financial help under Alberta's program for Preventative Welfare, instituted in July.

The resignation of Mrs. Anna Jones as a member of the Board was received with regret. Her replacement as Secretary of the Board is Mrs. W. Price of Bellevue.

Whist Parties Are Planned

The United Church Women of Coleman are starting whist fellowship nights to be held in the club room of St. Paul's United Church.

The first one to be on October 3rd, and will be held every first and third Monday nights throughout the winter months.

YOU are welcome. Come one, come all! and join us in this time of relaxation and fellowship.

Regular prizes will be given and lunch will be served. A grand aggregate prize will be given at the end of the series to the person with the highest score.

Come out and join us that we may get to know each other better.

Pass Liberals

Pick Murphy

(The Albertan)

LUNDBRECK (staff) — Benton Murphy, a Cowley district rancher, Saturday was nominated to contest the October 6th provincial by-election for the Liberal party in the Pincher Creek - Crows Nest constituency.

At a nomination meeting held in the Lundbreck Community hall, Mr. Murphy, a RCAF veteran and father of two, won the nomination over Al Krywolt, an insurance and real estate man from Coleman.

Mr. Murphy told the more than 125 persons who jammed the rural hall (Liberal supporters said it was the largest nominating meeting in memory) that the provincial government had forgotten about the residents of the constituency.

He strongly criticized the "Social Credit dynasty" for their failure to meet the health, educational and industrial development needs of the area.

During and after the meeting area residents expressed severe criticism of the "government now in power" concerning their tactics immediately prior to a by-election.

The by-election in the constituency came about as a result of the sudden death of William Kovach, Social Credit MLA for the area.

"We waited for months for the government to improve roads in the area and to start a recreation program for our kids," said one Coleman resident following Mr. Murphy's nomination. "Now that they (the government) see a by-election coming they do their damndest to appease us" he added.

"I don't know who will win, but it will be a lot closer race than in other years," predicted a rancher near Burnis.

Guest speakers at the meeting were Adrian Berry, Liberal party leader and Bill Switzer, Liberal MLA for Edson.

According to the latest edition of the Immunization Schedule as published by the Department of Public Health, Edmonton, maintenance doses of the Oral Polio Vaccine (Sabin) is recommended.

The staff of the Chinook Health Unit will administer this vaccine, early this fall, to all pre-school children who had Sabin Vaccine in 1963. Adults are requested to take a booster dose every five years to maintain their full immunity.

The preliminary and first official meetings of the newly formed Pass Taps Club were held on September 7 and 14.

It was decided to have a vigorous membership drive to enlarge the club. Anyone sincerely interested in losing unwanted pounds and improve their health should contact Mrs. Inger Randies at 582-2065 or write post office box 261, Blairmore.

NDP Hold Meeting In Pincher Creek

Speaking today in Pincher Creek, Garth Turcott, the New Democratic Party candidate in the Pincher Creek-Crowsnest, commented on the increased popular vote and representation gained by the New Democratic Party in Monday's British Columbia general election. Mr. Turcott found it encouraging that the New Democratic Party increased its representation in the B.C. legislature from 14 members to 16 members.

"It is particularly significant," Mr. Turcott said, "that the New Democratic Party candidate, Mr. Nimsick, won the East Kootenay riding so convincingly. This riding borders on the west side of the Pincher Creek-Crowsnest constituency and the increased support evident in Mr. Nimsick's victory should be reflected in my own constituency."

In the East Kootenay riding, Mr. Nimsick swept to an upset victory over the Liberal incumbent who failed to retain his deposit. The popular New Democratic Party candidate ran well ahead of the second place Social Credit candidate.

Conservation Tours Opens Fall Itinerary

During September to November it will again be "forestry night" in scores of communities throughout the north western forest areas of Alberta.

Working in co-operation with the local Forest Officers of the Alberta Forest Service, who undertake the advance arrangements in connection with these popular conservation programs, the Association's Mr. Greg Stevens, with his "conservation caravan" will be presenting films and talks to both students and adults.

His program covers the story of the forest, with emphasis on the part this outdoor world plays in all our lives and the need to use it wisely if we hope to always enjoy all its benefits. A major objective is securing public co-operation in the prevention of the man-caused forest fires.

Opening in the southern part of the Province this year on March 14th, and visiting communities northward along the foothills and into the forested north, Mr. Stevens travelled 5,200 miles until the middle of June, during which he held 235 meetings attended by 25,393 people.

Hundreds of letters from teachers, students and people attending the evening programs, attest to the popularity of these programs, carried on as a public service by the Alberta Forestry Association with the support of the Alberta Forest Service.

The most promising development from this unique educational undertaking has been the steadily increasing interest shown by the young people in the study of our natural resources and their evident desire to play a part in the protection of resources so essential to their own future welfare.

Fall Color

The coloring of the leaves in the fall results when the leaves in the trees stop making chlorophyll. Pigments left in the leaves, orange-red and yellow carotin and xanthophyll, brown tannins, red, purple and blue anthocyanins, then become visible.

The average Canadian family spends about $72 annually, coloring their hair, smoothing, deodorizing and painting themselves with cosmetics.

Children love to play and paint with cosmetics.

Many chemical cosmetics — hair dyes, cold wave permanents, antiperspirants, anti-dandruff preparations are harmful when swallowed and present a real danger to children.

DRYING FLOWERS and FOLIAGE FOR A COLORFUL WINTER BOUQUET

Fresh flowers and greens—such as goldenrod, strawflowers, cockscomb, oats, rye, leaves, seed pods, and ferns—can be dried for rich winter bouquets. You need no special equipment. A closet or your attic can serve as the "drying room" and some of the loveliest materials are found growing wild. Timing is important in the gathering of materials. Cut flowers in semi-bud form. They'll open into full bloom as they dry. Gather grasses and ferns in the morning, when they are fresh. Cut leaves as they start turning from green to yellow to red. Select flat branches of foliage for ease in pressing them effectively.

Put all fresh materials in buckets of water as they are cut if you have to transport them any distance. The sooner you press colored materials after picking, the brighter they will stay during the drying season.

Choose a dark, dry location for drying as dampness prevents proper drying and light fades colors. If rodents are a problem, set out mothballs to protect seed-heads from them.

To press leaves and ferns, lay each branch out carefully between layers of paper on a flat surface—floor or table. Make as many layers as you like. Weight down the pile with books, suitcases, or any heavy object, or under the carpet out of heavy traffic area. The newspaper absorbs the moisture, the weight presses flat and the darkness helps them to retain their natural color.

Another way to treat foliage is to slit branch ends, insert in several inches of solution of equal parts water and glycerin. Then simply arrange in your favorite container.

To obtain curved stems for variety in arrangements, dry part of your tall grasses and weeds by placing them upright in kegs, fruit jars, or milk bottles set on the floor of your drying room. Leave several weeks (undisturbed) or until the material is completely dry.

Unless you use these immediately, protect from dust by separating varieties and storing branches in cartons.

For the straight stems you will want on most materials, dry into bunches and string on lines hung at a height convenient for you to reach. Let dry for 3 or 4 weeks.

Many summer flowers such as larkspur, ageratum, globe amaranth, stock and zinnias will dry beautifully and hold their color. Cut and hang each variety when at its peak. Most spike flowers dry best tied together in small bunches from rafters or a line. Round flowers do better if the stem part is put through a hole in an inverted cardboard box so that the petals rest gently on the surface.

Another method of drying is to lay flowers head down in a mixture of borax and cornmeal (1 part borax to 6 parts cornmeal) or in dry sand. A chemical preparation SILICA-GEL which is available from florists also may be used in the preparation of dried flowers. It works particularly well in preserving certain colors—especially blue.

Gather colorful leaves and heads of bloom to include in your dry arrangements. Absence of light during the drying period is essential if you want colorful materials to use in your arrangements. Once flowers and leaves are dry and colors have "set" they won't fade, even if you display the arrangements in a sunny location.

Dried materials are ready to use in arrangements when flower petals feel rigid and no moisture is left by the paper layers of pressed foliage. If not thoroughly dry when you remove them from your presses, leaves will curl, lose their shape. Under proper conditions, drying takes three to four weeks.

Forest Fire At Vicary

A forest fire that was raging in the Vicary Creek mine area about 15 miles north of Coleman since September 8th was extinguished by mine crews and forestry personnel.

Rangers from the Gap Livingstone Ranger Station and the Coleman Ranger Station and Assistant Fire Patrol Officer Del Herford of Coleman arrived on the scene with necessary fire fighting equipment at about 3:30 p.m. Thursday, September 8th, and with the aid of over 20 miners from the Vicary Mine, fought the fire.

The Forest Service Department gives much credit to Arthur Johns, a caterpillar driver, who was working in the area, and whose quick action cut off a large stand of timber from the fire and contained the blaze in a one-acre site.

The forestry report the fire could have otherwise been very serious. Alf Longworth, superintendent of the Crows Nest Forest Office, stated that it appears the fire could have started accidentally by work crews burning brush under permit in the area. The forest in the district is in a dry condition.

There have only been two fires this season prior to the present one—these being at Castle River and at Dutch Creek earlier this summer.

Mr. Longworth commended both the adult and junior residents of the Crows Nest Pass for their great interest shown in preventing fires and in forest conservation in the area.

Did you know that children, some as young as two or three, can, and do, suffer from mental illness as severe and agonizing as any adult's? Do you know what help there is, if any, for these little sufferers? PLANNING AHEAD INTO THE 1970's

If Alberta is to continue prospering all parts of the province must be involved.

The continuation of prosperity demands vigorous action to obtain new industry and revitalization of existing industry to create better jobs.

To attract or encourage industry we must have trained people, and proper facilities. Communities must be assisted by the provincial government so that they have every chance to grow.

HISTORY STAYS ALIVE
IN HERITAGE PARK*A visit to this unique pioneer community makes you proud to be an Albertan!

The smithy works at his forge, using equipment that dates back to the turn of the century. At the station the train, with its tall-stacked locomotive, is loading passengers. Many will get off at "Bowell Station", to embark for a voyage on the stern-wheeler "S.S. Moyie". Meanwhile, back at the general store, youngsters are buying sticks of horehound candy. These are only a few of the things to see and do at Heritage Park, Calgary — a complete community from Alberta's rugged and independent pioneer era, with streets of stores, homes, school, church and palisaded fort. We salute the enterprising Albertans who conceived, created and dogged pioneer artifacts (including whole buildings!) for Heritage Park. The result — an authentic re-creation of yesterday's Alberta!

After your visit take home a copy of "Heritage Park Memories", an illustrated souvenir album sponsored for Heritage Park by Calgary Power.

Heather Fleming Is Bride Of Norman Foster

Vases of beautiful summer flowers were used in the decor of St. Paul's United Church, when double-ring wedding vows were exchanged between Heather Elizabeth Fleming and Norman Wayne Foster.

Pew markers were white satin bows centered with heather.

Minister Peter Walker of Coleman and Rev. W. Julian of Fort Macleod officiated at the afternoon ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Fleming of Coleman, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Foster of Kimberley.

B. C. Ken Murdoch was organist and accompanied Mrs. B. Skoye, soloist, who sang "O Perfect Love". Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked lovely in a floor-length gown of white chiffon over satin with Empire line lace bodice, lace appliques on the skirt and long sleeves. A long train in matching chiffon and lace fell from a bow on the back of the neckline. A crown of pearls held her tiered veil and she carried a bouquet of red roses, white stephanotis and heather. Her only jewellery was a pearl necklace and earrings, gift of the groom.

Attending the bride were two cousins, the Misses Janice and Betty Kinnear, who wore identical gowns of turquoise peau de soie with Empire line brocade bodice and matching ring hats. Bouquets of turquoise tinted carnations completed their costumes.

Barrie Foster, brother of the groom, was best man, and ushers were Tom Kemp and Clarence Uhl.

As she was leaving the church the bride was presented with a horse-shoe good luck piece, sent from Scotland, by her young nephew, Joy Salvador of Creston, B.C.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Fleming chose a pink linen sheath with matching lace jacket banded in line, white hat and accessories and a red carnation corsage. Mrs. Foster, mother of the groom, wore a beige cotton knit suit, blue flower hat, matching blue shoes and pink carnation corsage.

A reception was held in the Catholic Church hall where 125 guests sat down to a banquet supper.

For the occasion the hall was decorated with white and blue streamers and white bells.

The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake embedded in white tulle and topped with a dove and wedding ring ornament and flanked with six blue tapers in crystal holders.

The United Church Women's group catered to the supper.

Toast to the bride was given by John Kinnear, uncle of the bride, to which the groom ably responded. Toast to the bridesmaids was given by Barrie Foster.

Master of ceremonies, Gerry McKay of Vegreville, formerly of Kimberley, read telegrams of congratulations from Castlegar, Pine Point, Creston, Fort William and Estevan, Sask.

For their honeymoon trip to Las Vegas, San Francisco and Victoria the bride donned a turquoise linen sheath with matching coat, white accessories and corsage of sweet-heart roses.

Out of town guests were from Calgary, Lethbridge, Vancouver, Victoria, Creston, Cowley, Estevan, Chapman Camp, Marysville and Kimberley, B. C.

Some prospects are miners — they let the rest of the world go by.

David took 17 years of love from his parents, first class honours from his school and $8,000 from your pockets.

Brilliant high school student dies in car crash said the headline. All that love, all that brilliance, all that money, all gone for nothing.

Automobile accidents kill more young Canadians than anything. More than disease; more than all other accidents put together.

It costs some $8,000 in tax money just to prepare a student for university. A thorough high school driver training program costs $40 per student, and takes 50 hours of instruction. Small costs against the losses.

The automobile insurance industry promotes young driver training. Bursaries, text books and free instruction are given to high school teachers. They in turn teach the students.

The industry also awards cash discounts on auto insurance premiums to students who pass the course.

Driver training isn't a frill. School boards with experience know it's a proven method of reducing accidents. Urge and back high school driver training in your community. Keep the Davids with us.
